

SESE Student Emergency Assistance Fund Applicant Information

The SESE Student Emergency Assistance Fund was established to assist undergraduate and graduate students who encounter critical financial situations such as those resulting from the Covid-19 pandemic.

Please review the following eligibility criteria, those who do not meet all of the criteria will be reviewed on a case by case basis. Funds will be dispersed through Financial Aid, so in order to be considered you must have a current FAFSA on file if you are a US citizen.

- Currently enrolled in at least one credit hour. Graduate students employed as an RA or TA during summer meet this requirement.
- In good academic standing with good academic progress.
- Have exhausted all financial aid options available.
- FAFSA on file. Ensure that this is current, reflecting recent employment status changes for yourself and/or parents if applicable due to the current situation.

Some examples (but not all) of critical needs:

- Housing
- Food
- Clothing
- Emergency transportation
- Critical technology for working or studying remotely

Events not covered by the SESE Student Emergency Fund:

- Chronic debt or sustained financial short-falls
- Legal fees or fines (garnishments)
- Tuition or book fees
- Stolen or damaged property

The SESE Student Emergency Assistance Fund was established to help SESE undergraduate and graduate students in the event of an unexpected emergency. The amount of funds available to distribute can vary and is limited. Not all requests will be funded or funded in full.
